Dear Carol
I am so glad you came to H.H.S. and I hope you like
it. Best of luck to the sweetest gal. Here's hoping you will be here
next year.
Love
Pat.

Dear Carol,
It's been fun knowing you this year. Westend Hills (Athens) sure sent a sweet delegate to you.
You're pretty much of a cutie pie — don't change your sweet laugh (man

Dear Carol:
It has really been a swell year having you. I think you are one of the cutest girls in the sophomore class. Good luck to a swell Biology student Love Anne

Dear Carol,
I've really enjoyed finding out how swell you are these last few days. Those little talks we had on the way home from school were really something! Be good always and think of me some time.
Best of luck,

ADMINISTRATION

Winkler, Stegeman, Johnson, Bridges, Chapman, Schwartz, Miller.

The career of a Board of Education member is no bed of roses. The only similarity is the thorns.

So few understand the functions of this group that we would like to clarify their various duties. Every second Monday night, rain or shine, and it's usually rain, there is a board meeting, at which they generally have some competition from the auditorium, such as band practice, a play, or a meeting of chattering women.

Come spring, when life should take on a happier aspect, the board members have to wrestle with the budget. Finances are a headache to any organization, but here they are a major problem. They have to decide whether Miss McChesney needs a new encyclopedia more than Miss Payne needs a pottery kiln. Then there is always Miss Welker reminding them of the absolute necessity for a new typewriter.

No sooner is the budget pruned than the plaster falls in the Memorial Room. Next, the boiler gets temperamental and the plumbing springs a leak. About this time the board is ready to commit hari-kari. Then comes the usual library robbery, and the eternal wounded mother calling up a member and demanding that her little cherub be given more consideration by those insensitive, brutal, and practically carnivorous teachers!

So you see why we are so grateful to our board: Mr. Alvin P. Miller, Mr. T. B. Johnson. Dr. J. A. Winkler, Mr. H. Randall Stegeman, Mr. D. D. Schwartz, Mr. R. E. Bridges, superintendent, and Miss Elizabeth Chapman, the secretary, who have been responsible for the smooth running of our fine school system.

BOARD OF EDUCATION AND

RUSSELL V. ANDERSON

Principal

MARGUERITE MOERY

Acting Principal

After a two-year sojourn in the Navy as a communications officer on the U. S. S. Intrepid, Mr. Anderson returned to us this last semester. He took over the reins from Miss Moery whose steady hand had managed them so capably during his absence. In their positions of principal and vice-principal respectively, they are well known to us as counselors, guides, and especially as friends. They are never too busy to help us. To Mr. Smith who filled the office of vice-principal in the absence of Mr. Anderson, we say, "Thank you for a job well done."

THE PAUSE THAT REFRESHES

After coping with the younger generation, the teachers deserve the rest which they find occasionally in the Lydia M. Berry Memorial Room. This haven was furnished by the faculty in memory of a former teacher at Highlands. It also serves as a reception and conference room. Few schools have a social center as attractive as this.

FOREIGN LANGUAGES

To those of us who have the conscientiousness to see through four years of Latin, Miss Jordan teaches the escapades of Caesar, Cicero, Aeneas, and other Roman, characters. La Senora Taylor instructs senior high students in the language of the espanoles.

SOCIAL SCIENCE

Miss Moore acts as the guide for the junior high in their encounters with Daniel Boone. Moreover, she explains to these neophytes the articles of their state constitution. She directs them until the time when Messrs. Waddell, Allphin, and Durham take over their historical education and provide them with inexhaustible sources of knowledge about society, constitutions, prohibition bills, and try to make them socially conscious of the serious problems facing the world today.

COMMERCE

Were it not for Miss Jones, Mr. Miller, and Miss Welker, our finances would be snafu. Their students are taught commercial law, business math, typing, and shorthand which prepare these young industrialists to face the cold, hard business world.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION AND HEALTH

All of our robust student body owes its physical well-being to the "tiring" efforts of Mrs.

Collins and Mr. Evan Jones, who has been recently discharged after several years service in the Navy. The result of these squat-thrusts and sit-ups may be sore muscles at first, but eventually we admit they mean stronger bodies. Miss Brown, our nurse, keeps a constant check on us, and prods us to qualify for the coveted blue ribbon.

PRACTICAL ARTS

Our housewives of tomorrow are being trained in the fundamentals of homemaking by Miss Greeno. In these classes they meet carbohydrates, proteins, riboflavin, and all their brothers and sisters. Another division of this department is home nursing in which the girls learn sickroom technique. The boys come to the front in the shop. Under Mr. Sadosky they start out by making trickly little household gadgets for mama and papa, and gradually progress to more difficult articles of furniture.

FINE ARTS

Under the direction of Miss Payne, the art students are instructed in different media such as finger painting, clay modeling, oils, and water color. They also learn leathercraft, perspective, block printing, etcetera. It is the patience of Mr. Jones and Mr. McKenna that keeps Highlands in tune. They are responsible for our fine chorus and excellent instrumental music.

ENGLISH

To professors Kellogg, Taylor, Suter, White, Jordan, and Miller we owe our ability to use isn't instead of ain't. We learn to recognize the elusive gerund and gerundive, to avoid the dangling participle, and to shun the loathsome split infinitive. We are introduced to great literature, and taught to organize our scattered thoughts on paper by these indefatigable friends.

SCIENCE

General science with Mr. Elliott is the rudimentary course in this field. Advancing to the higher studies. Mr. Durham introduces us to protons and neutrons in chemistry. Again we look to Mr. Elliott to guide the seniors through the labyrinth of physics—and what a maze it is, radio-activity, flotation, and oscilloscopes, for example.

MATHEMATICS

Into the unsuspecting underclassmen Miss Roudebush and Mrs. Miller manage to drill fractions, percentage, and interest, and thus equip them with a good mathematical foundation. Some of the more courageous students attempt higher math. These intrepid ones, under the tutelage of Miss Baker and Mrs. Seiter, struggle with the errant locus in geometry, master quadratic equations in algebra, and conquer solid geometry and the sines, cosines, and tangents of trigonometry.

LIBRARY

The library is a popular place in our school, though getting to it is practically a cross-country hike for the seventh graders who live on the third floor of the old building. Here Miss McChesney keeps our books in order by that fantastic process, the Dewey Decimal System, pursues us with overdues notices, and makes with praise for us when we read something she thinks is "really mature."

STUDENT GOVERNMENT

The Executive Bodies, Duncan and Smalley.

Our ship of state weathered many a storm this year, losing both its skippers during the course of its sail. Sherley Duncan piloted the Delegate Assembly for one semester, and Bill Fennell assumed responsibilities after Dunc's departure for the Army. The Student Council suffered similar consequences when Lt. Commander Smalley launched his boat in new waters at U. C. Again Bill Fennell came to the wheel to quide the ship.

Student government, the harbor for complaints and the drydock for school problems, promoted many improvements here in the good ship H. H. S. Money beinq needed for the awards presented to the athletic crew, the bodies sponsored several activities, such as dances and movies, in an attempt to appropriate funds. Not only were the athletes' and cheerleaders' awards to be paid for, but also those marks of recognition which members of the band and the Highlander and Hilltopper platoons had earned.

Our legislators cruised a little farther and landed at the port of Community Chest. This move was made with an eye to distributing money collected from the students among the various charitable organizations.

With the return of "Admiral" Anderson, the speed of our ship was stepped up several knots, and the entire student body received the order of "Full speed ahead!" The Admiral wasted no time in improving the hall-supervision plan and the one-hour watches were placed in more responsible hands.

About this time the Highlands' crew pushed off in the direction of Teen Topics. Here those students who so desired were briefed in problems concerning young people of high school age. Local ministers conducted these sessions.

Sportsmanship, which floundered in the troubled waters of football season, was the subject for many discussions among the Council and Assembly contingents. During the year, these student bodies succeeded in smoothing over many rough spots in the school life. The sportsmanship snag was one of these.

Detention hall, the brig for the violators of the regulations established by the pilots of the ship of state, was in the throes of revision for a few weeks of the sail. It was noticed that this plan was not functioning in the way orginally intended by the student government, so everyone put a hand on the rudder and steered the idea back on its course.

Looking over the log of our ship of state, it seems apropos to say that the ten-months' voyage was not only successful but also effective. The skippers were subordinate to commanding officers Mr. Law and Mr. Waddell, and with the aid of these two and the return of Admiral Anderson, it was inevitable that the mission of our ship of state be completed in true Highlands form.

RARE MOMENTS

Left to right: Ensign Evan Jones . . . Mr. Durham and the Last of the Cherokees? . . . Miss Jones decorates the beach at San Diego . . . Everything's ducky with Miss Payne! . . . Lt. Elliott and Becky in the Mississippi snow—not cotton . . . Quite a catch, Miss Baker . . . Who was the photographer, Mrs. Collins? . . . Miss Mac goes from books to bikes . . . So that's how Mr. Suter keeps his trim physique.

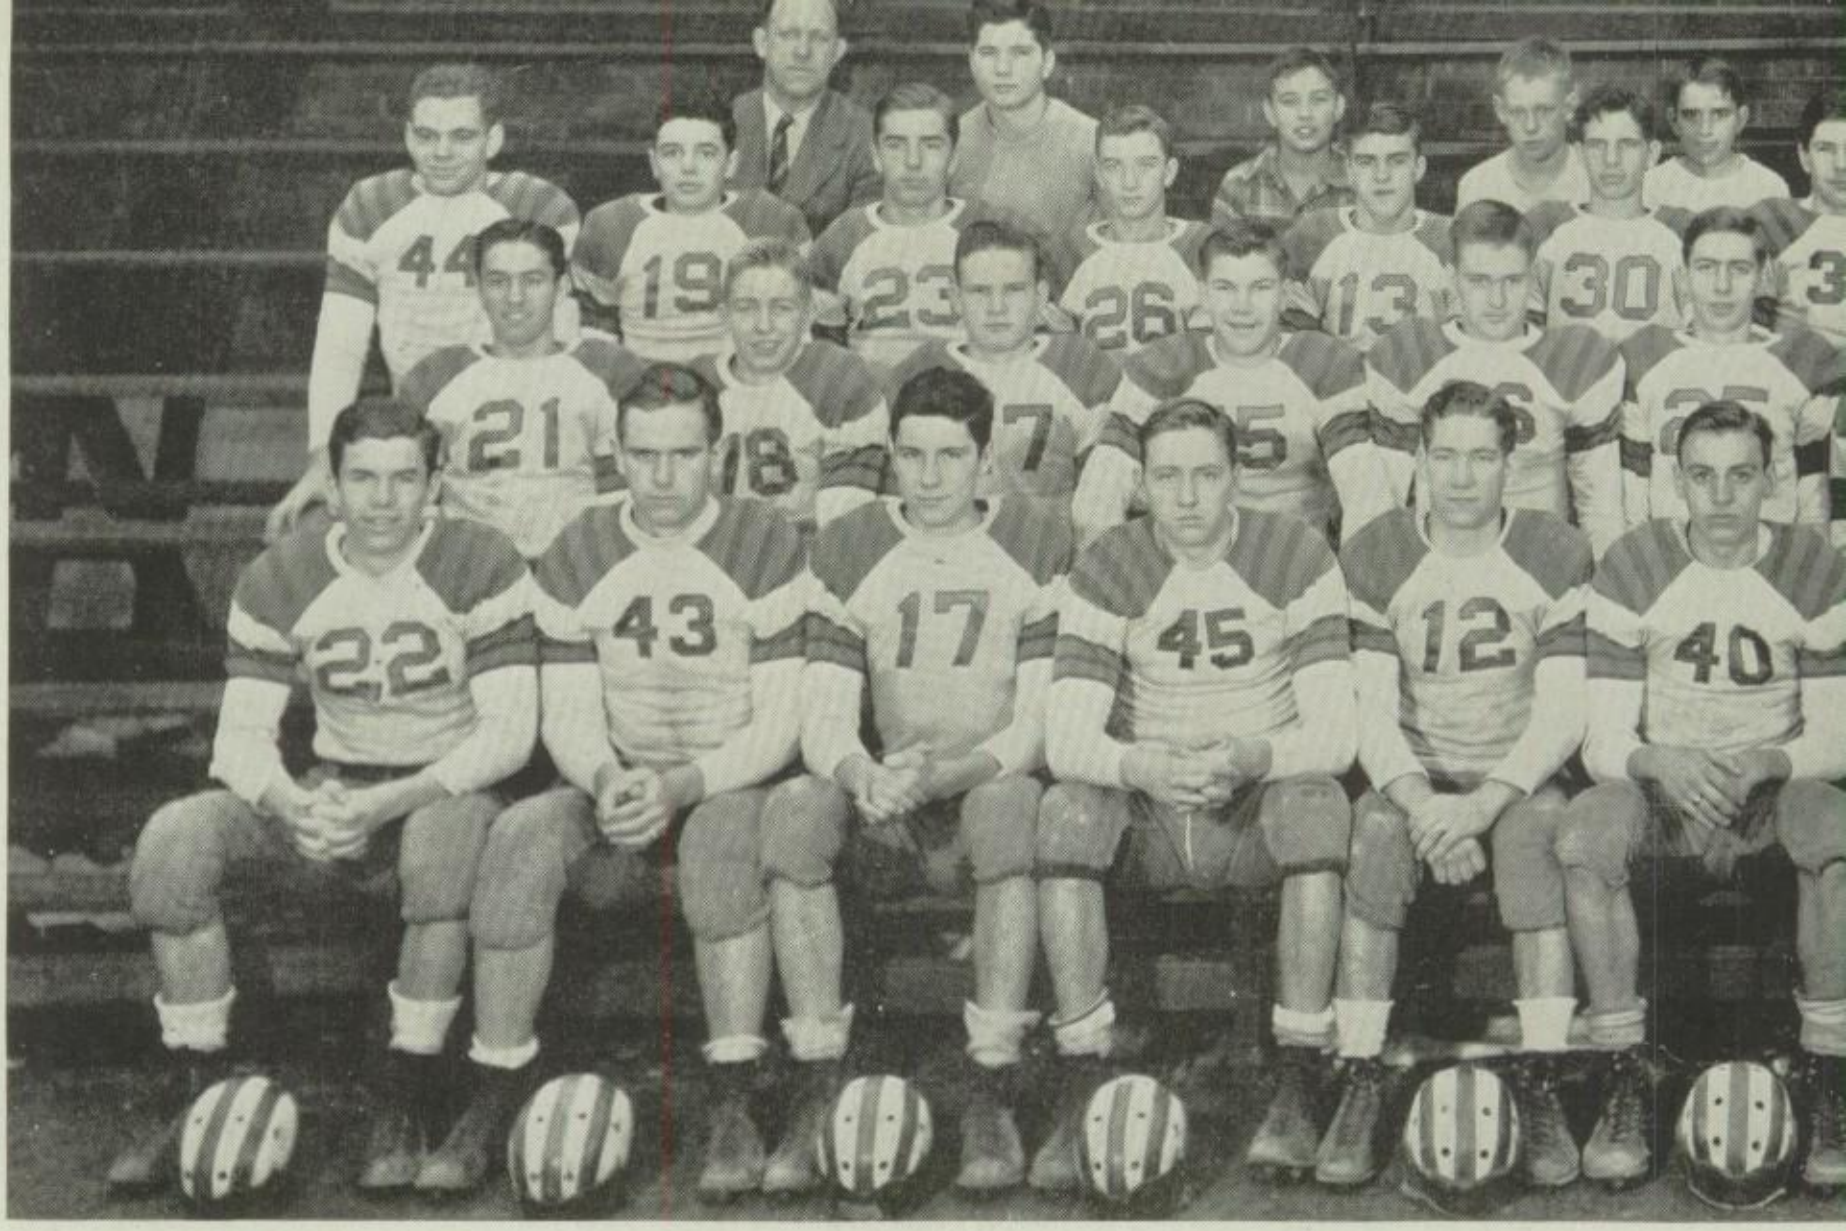
ATHLETICS



Football season—the spectators cheer wildly for their team, the bench-warmers freeze, and the players knock themselves cold. Practice started early in August at the Ruth Moyer School, where the field was slightly bumpy due to the mole hills, the trees, and the baseball diamond. Here Coaches Waddell, Law, and S[illegible]losky inflicted the various tortures of their t[illegible]de; the straddle-hop, the deep-knee bend, and the push-ups. However, the boys all realized the necessity of such conditioning exercises and gladly performed their duty without complaint concerning the heat, the rocks, or the "Warden."

When school started—much to the joy of the players—the team began to practice on the school grounds where the only impediments were a sprinkling system and a few pebbles about the size of baseballs. The sprinkling system was easily removed, but the rocks proved to be a more difficult problem.

By the close of the first week of school the Bluebirds were ready and willing for the Friday night contest with the Campbell County High School. In the cool of the evening—80°F—the Camels fell before the power of the Birds to the tune of 13-0.

"We're good, we can't be beat, we've got another state championship"—so the next week we lost to Dayton 19-13. In the final minutes the Birds tied the score after a long drive, only to lose in the last seconds when Dayton scored on a pass.

Lloyd and Beechwood proved easy victims for the larger Highlands team; the team won by 38-0 and 28-6 respectively.

Bellevue! Just mention that word and every Bluebird will begin to molt. In the opening minutes the Tigers scored a touchdown, but failed to tally the extra point. The Highlanders came back with a 60-yard drive but were unable to score from the one-yard line. This dispiriting mischance took all of the pep out of the local boys, and Bellevue proceeded to score two more touchdowns to win 18-0.

Determined to defeat Newport, after playing a little like the team from the county infirmary on the previous Friday, the Birds turned on the steam. Newport didn't have a chance, for the pass combination of Duncan, Mann, Dierig, and Bahlman was too much for the clawless Wildcats, who went down 26-0.

The Ludlow Panthers were no match for the Bluebirds' passing attack, and as a result they were an easy 27-0 victory.

Before the St. Xavier game, the Highlands backfield men seemed to have gotten their hands in the butter jar instead of the resin bag. At least that is the way things looked, unfortunately, since our boys fumbled on almo every play. The St. Xavier boys, converting our costly fumbles into touchdowns, handed us our third defeat of the season by a 13-0 margin.

The Bluebirds were a little on the negative side when the Covington Bulldogs growled their way to victory; however, they put up a good fight. The Highlanders threatened in the opening minutes, but failed to cross the goal line, and the Bulldogs took over on their five-yard marker.

Out of bounds, but a first down.

FOOTBALL

With the aid of a few completed passes the Kenton County team scored a touchdown before the half. The Bluebirds made a second threat after the half, but failed to score. In the final quarter the Bulldogs scored three more goals against the tired Birds, who put up a good fight until the final whistle. The Highlanders only score came on the last minute safety. The heart-breaking score was 27-2.

The Dixie Heights game proved to be an easy win for the Highlanders who scored a 26-13 victory over the Little Colonels. Passes either scored or set up all the tallies for our astonished team.

On November 16, almost the entire student body and faculty migrated to Ashland to witness our battle with the Tomcats. Neither team was able to score on its ground attack; however, the Tomcats' passing attack clicked where the Bluebirds' aerial defense failed. This was the deciding factor of the game and resulted in a 24-0 victory for Ashland; nevertheless, the game was closer than the score indicated and the Highlanders offered excellent competition.

We did not succeed in trapping any championship, but we did have a good time at all the games and we did appreciate the drive that every member of the team and student body put forth. Only a few fellows had much experience behind them, and a situation such as this made for a nervous squad, but we can say that Highlands proved themselves a courageous and hard-fighting team.

Polishing up for Ashland.

"Come on, let's give a great big 'Yea team'!" A familiar cry, but this time how about reversing the process and giving a great big "Yea cheerleaders"? These girls have done an outstanding job in leading the school yells. Their pep, vitality, and ability have spurred the crowd to cheer loudly and spiritedly. The efforts of this attractive quintet added color and gaiety to our sports events. Our junior cheerleaders urged on the reserve squads.

The enthusiasm of the two groups was so contagious that the teams responded with renewed vigor to their untiring support.

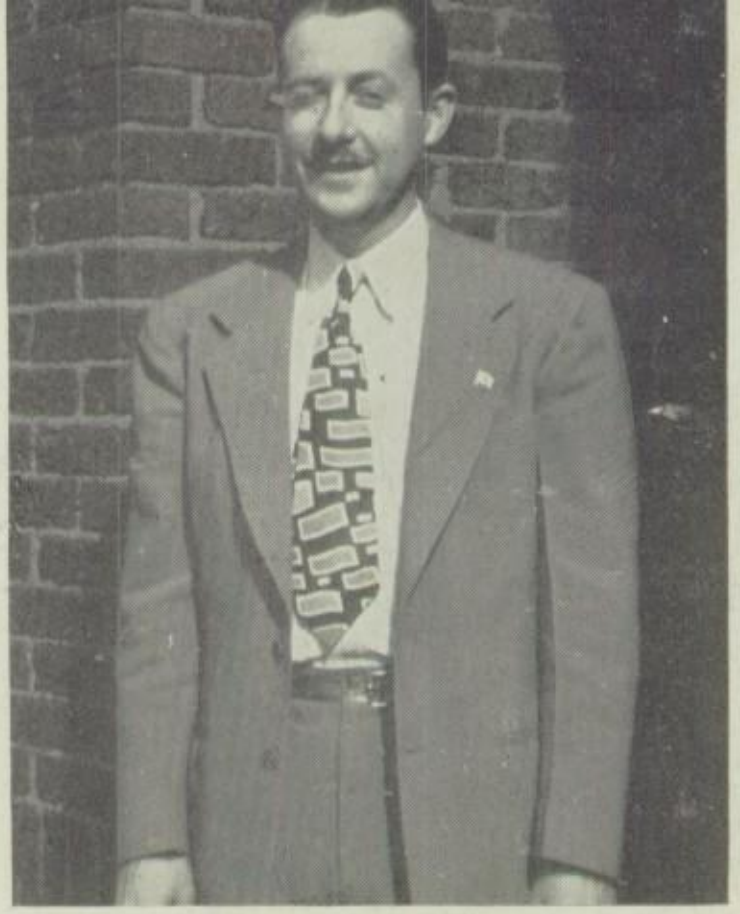
BASKETBALL

The Bluebirds started off the 1945-46 season greatly handicapped by lack of size and playing experience. The starting five barely averaged 5 feet 9 inches. With only two lettermen returning things looked a little on the dismal side. In fact, it was quite a problem to find anyone who would undertake coaching the Birds. Mr. Al Anderson, the new principal of Johnson School, finally agreed to take the job. With Mr. Law as assistant, he worked hard the first two weeks of practice trying to build a team.

The first game was with Silver Grove, where Mr. Anderson served as principal and coach last year, and was really a heart-breaker as we were nosed out in the last second of play 35-34. Even the skill displayed by B. J. and Louis Moore in racking up 13 and 8 points respectively didn't satisfy Mr. Anderson, as of course this was the game he especially wanted to win.

The next night the Birds started off furiously against Dixie Heights but the Colonels soon settled down. In the last half they completely outplayed us and the score was 45-27 for them. Duncan was high man for the Birds, piling up nine points.



COACH AL ANDERSON

After another week of diligent practice, the Birds went out and grabbed their first victory at the expense of Ludlow, 31-27. B. J. Moore was high man with 13 points, and Dulaney followed with 9.

BASKETBALL SEASON

The next night we engaged the Bellevue five on the home floor and were stymied to the tune of a 34-22 loss. B. J. was again high man with six points.

The next week we traveled to Dayton to engage a strong Greendevil quintet. Twelve straight free throws kept us in the game the first half. In the last half both teams settled down and the game ended 39-32 in favor of Dayton. Louie Moore was high point man swishing the hoops for 13 markers.

The following evening a strong Louisville St. Xavier quintet visited us. We played over their heads the first half but in the last half neither team could find the basket and the game ended 24-19 in their favor. Once again B. J. led us with six points.

The Birds flew to Simon Kenton the next week to take on the Pioneers. Paced by our famous Moore combination, we got hot in the second half and came through with a 36-24 win. B. J. and Louie were tops for the Birds that evening, splitting 24 points between them.

The next day the Birds took off for Lexington where we met the Lafayette Generals. We were on our mettle, since they are coached by Ralph Carlisle, our former mentor, but they took us 33-26. We missed the services of Bill Fennell, first string center. Duncan was high man for us with nine points.

After another hard week of practice, we went out to Campbell County to receive our worst defeat of the year. Unable to penetrate the tight zone defense of the Camels, we were ragged and trailed 19-9 at the half. The second half found the country boys hitting everything they attempted and we lost 50-19. Duncan led for us with only five markers.

The next night found the Birds at Covington, determined to make a showing against the huge Holmes boys. Paced by Dulaney and B. J., the Birds hit consistently during the first half and led 25-22. The amazed Holmes boys finally caught up late in the third quarter and won 60-44. B. J. led the Birds with 15 points, Dulaney adding another ten to the cause.

The next week we played the Beechwood Tigers at Fort Mitchell. After a listless quarter, the Tigers, sparked by Hood, came to life and won 35-26. As usual, B. J. was our high point man with eight.

The next night we put up a valiant fight against the Bellevue Tigers. Missing Fennell, who had an injured ankle, we finished on the short end of a 40-33 score. Substitute Larry Hicks was our high man with nine, and Duke Schneider chalked up eight.

Back on our home floor, we took revenge for an earlier defeat by flooring the Silver Grove Big Trains. Toward the end, Schneider and Dulaney poured it on and we took the game 51-37.

The Birds now received a blow when Sherley Duncan, stellar forward, was called into the service. Larry Hicks worthily filled his place.

That weekend we lost to Erlanger Lloyd 32-30.

BASKETBALL SEASON

The next week we traipsed to Dixie Heights to give the league leaders a tough game. The Colonels fought back, however, to win by 33-29.

Home once again, the Birds gave way to the tall Campbell County team in a rough game. We put up a fine battle but lost 40-26. Dulaney led for us with 11 points.

In the roughest game of the year, we were downed by a small Newport team, 38-34. The game was climaxed by a fight. Dulaney was our high man with 13 points while Sarakatsannis added nine.

In the last game of the season, we bowed to the mighty Covington quintet 46-28. Dulaney led the team with nine markers.

In the district tournament we drew Bellevue for our first game. It was close all the way. In the second half our failure to hit short shots cost us the game 39-32.

Although our season record was not impressive the whole team played with a true never-say-die spirit. Our new coach, Mr. Anderson, did a fine job and we wish him "better luck next time."

T R A C K

The 1945 Highlands track squad accomplished what many cindermen earnestly strived to attain —the best record in the school history. Al "Honey" Rader and Bernie Sadosky worked hard to make this dream come true.

Under the capable leadership of co-captains Storms and Sullivan, the track men had an excellent season. As we started off, Storms looked good in the distance runs, and Patton and Bahlman were taking the hurdles in fine stride. Boonie Fennell was making good time in the dashes. In the field events, Luecke proved best in the shot put, and Bahlman was headed for history in the broad jump. Jaqua was vaulting in championship form.

On April 17 the Birds swooped down on Campbell County for the kill, and when the feathers stopped flying, the score was 87½ to 27½.

The next clash was with Holmes. Our boys were out for revenge after the defeat by three-quarters of a point in the 1944 district meet. They really got it—62 to 47. Luecke broke his own shot put record with a heave of 44 feet 6 inches, an improvement of 1 foot 4 inches.

COACHES SADOSKY AND JONES.

Four days later we met Manual and Bellevue in a triangular meet. It was close all the way, but the mighty Birds won by one point. The feature race of the day was the 220-dash, in which Boonie Fennell nosed out the highly favored Phillips of Manual.

After this victory the Birds were traveling in high gear but lost the Highland relays to Covington by the heart-breaking margin of two-fifths of a point.

The next day the Birds went to Withrow in a cold, gloomy drizzle and won the K. of C. relays. Competing with so many Ohio schools, it looked at first as if we were going to have a time of it, but when the last race was over, the closest rival was Lockland, trailing our 84 points with their 40. Jaqua smashed the pole vault record with a 10-foot 9-inch climb, and Plucker skimmed the high hurdles in 15.7.

The district meet, which we had never won, was held May 9th. The Blue and White men took ten out of 13 first places to emerge victorious by the score of 64½ points to Holmes' 38. Patton broke the high and low hurdle records, and Storms stole the mile and bettered the school record at the same time.

At Lexington, on May 18th, the Birds pounded out second place in the state meet. We held the lead for a while, but Male forged ahead later by copping more third and fourth places. With a 20-foot 6-inch leap, Bahlman brought back a first place in the broad jump. This was the first time a Bird had earned a blue ribbon in this event. The final standings were Male 43, Highlands 35½, and Manual 30½.

On June 4th the first track banquet was held in the school cafeteria. Sixteen boys received letters—Sullivan, Storms, Luecke, Neff, Patton, Bahlman, Wight, Boonie Fennell, Jaqua, Rice, Warren, Bill Fennell, Ziegler, and Lahner. A track fan presented to the team a handsome bronze plaque listing the records of the 1945 season. Four boys, Patton, Luecke, Storms, and Boonie Fennell received the A. A. U. medals. So covered with glory externally, and stuffed with good food internally, the boys felt that the banquet was a fine close for the athletic year.

The 1946 track season saw the temporary departure from the cinder path of a well-loved and familiar figure. Mr. Al Rader, whose name has been synonymous with track for many years, was not with us this year due to ill health. At the beginning of the second semester he spent several weeks in Florida thinking this might put him in trim to return to Highlands in the spring, but the doctors still said no.

As in basketball, there was a search for a new coach. Bernie Sadosky, that versatile member of our athletic staff, was appointed head coach. Mr. Evan Jones, who came to us in January to serve as physical education instructor and attendance officer, was asked to assist Bernie.

After such a successful season last year, the enthusiasm was high and the coaches felt that the prospects for a good season were bright.

GIRLS ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

The Girls Athletic Association offers to the feminine members of the ninth through twelfth grades an opportunity to show their prowess in the sports field. Mrs. Collins acts as coach for these girls, and it is her aim to train them in muscular coordination, mental agility, and sportsmanship.

both the varsity and the G. A. A. This game is a favorite with the girls, and the application of girls rules does not make the competition any less keen. Teams are organized, and on Monday and Friday afternoons they schedule different tilts. Regardless of the broken finger nails, a tragedy in any girls' life, and floor-burned knees, Bottom Row: Reibling, Sandhas, Ballard, Lichti, Mahaney, Aschenbach, Eastabrooks, Sheriff, Creighton, Keslar, Ertel, Rauch, Reeves, Tieman, M. Gross, Mills, Roell, Stortz, Rollings, Warden, Frommel. Third Row: Kissinger, Keslar, Meyer, Wiggins, Schnorr, Nash, Reichel, Kammann, Breitenstein, Nulsen. Fourth Row: Reinerman, Groshell, Lykins, McVean, Lahrman.

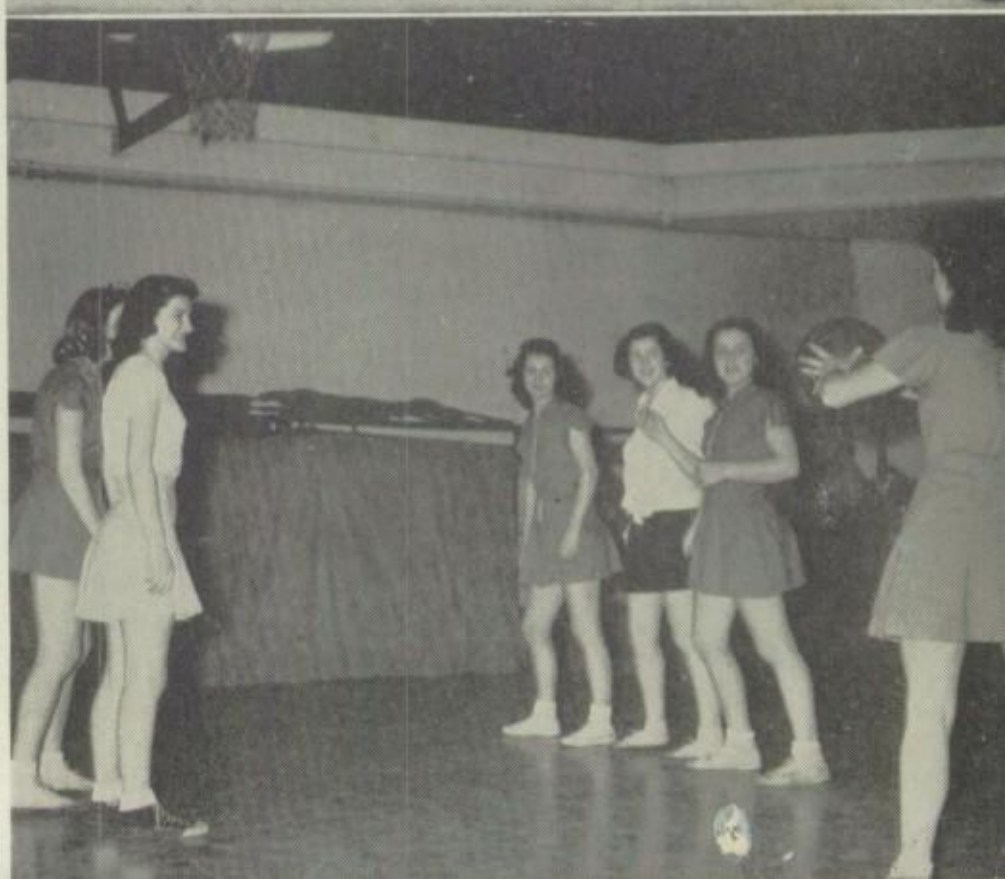
While the boys are seeing action on the gridiron, the girls are fighting it out in volley ball contests. At the end of an eight-week period an honor team of the best players is chosen. This November all of the G. A. A. was invited to contest with Bellevue in a volley ball clash. It was a fitting end to the season.

Basketball season occurs simultaneously for basketball continues to be the favorite sport of the G. A. A.

Ambitious seems to be an appropriate adjective for any G. A. A. member, for each Wednesday afternoon during the winter they strike out for Newport for a line or two of bowling. This is probably the most widely popular activity in which the G. A. A. engages.



When basketball has run its course, ping pong, aerial dart, paddle tennis, and baseball occupy the after school sessions.

The G. A. A. is open to all girls of the four upper grades. Meetings are held in the gym on Mondays and Fridays after school. Officers, consisting of a president, a vice-president, a treasurer, and a secretary are elected at the beginning of the year. Any money made by the organization is used to pay for awards and for other expenses of the club.

At the end of each semester awards are presented. A girl must accumulate four houndred points from her activities in the club to get a pin; eight hundred points for a guard; twelve hundred points for a blue letter; sixteen hundred points for a white letter. Points are given for the games played during the meetings, for extra work in the club, for being a member of an honor team, and for engaging in sports such as hiking, tennis, skating, and bicycling outside of meetings.

This year a new point system was inaugurated at Highlands for all the Freshman members. After four years this will be the accepted point system for the whole club.

The sixty enthusiastic girls enrolled in the G. A. A. feel very grateful to Mrs. Collins for the fine opportunities given them to keep physically fit while indulging in their favorite sports.

MAY DAY

After an endurance contest with the elements, we finally drew a dry, sunny day on May 31st, so that night we held the seventeenth annual Blue Ribbon Health Program, more familiarly known as May Day. This event is held each year in order to stimulate interest in health standards.

The occasion called for the usual royalty, and sceptres were wielded by Paul Bodenstein and June Moore. Their court was made very colorful by the attendance of the eleventh and twelfth grade girls dressed in pastel tarlatan.

Each grade level contributed some dance or game to the program, and our own band provided the music for each performance. The traditional English Maypole Dance and the presentation of the blue ribbons culminated the evening's festivities.

The rainbow parade ushers in another May Day . . . Eighth grade girls perform the ever-popular Maypole dance.

Let's give a cheer for the Highland Band,
Whose fame is known throughout the land,
So trim and neat in their blue and white,
They drill and tootle each Friday night.

Everyone has been familiar with the Highland Band since 1929, when it was organized. Since that time the band has been under the capable leadership of Mr. James B. McKenna, better known to us as just "Mac." He has spent many long days and extra long nights working out plans to make the only band in Fort Thomas a superior one. The most important factor about this organization is the great opportunity it offers for an interesting and helpful education in music.

Horns blowing, drums rolling, and Mac's own voice were all heard as early as 7:00 a.m. during football season. These early morning practices have proved to be helpful in every way.

HIGHLAND BAND

The band and majorettes stepped out on the field every Friday night at the half to present their show, which they had practiced for so long.

There are fifty members in the Highland Band, and a majorette corps of eleven snappy Rockettes. The band had many engagements this year. They played for a total of five pep rallies and performed at all the football games during the season. They presented programs for the Holy Name Parade, the Cincinnati Music Guild Contest, where we rated highest, the American Education Week program here at school, the Campbell County Bankers, the Cincinnati Rotary Club, and for the four regular Sunday afternoon concerts. This series of concerts presents the band in its most formal and serious efforts.

The band entered the Northern Kentucky Music Festival, which was held in Covington this year. On April 25-26, the Band and Chorus Music Festival was presented before the public, in order that we might show what talents we have developed. They closed their books and put away their instruments after playing at Commencement.

The band has practiced regularly three times a week, making a total of 156 hours of preparation. This did not include the extra week-day practices or the private lessons given by Mac in his home. Mac has also set up music in the fourth, fifth and sixth grades. He wants all his students to become familiar with the plastic instruments: the bugle, the tonette, and the recorder.

Membership in the Highland Band not only gives the student training, but imbues each with a feeling for fine musical sincerity and appreciation, which shall at once be a stimulus and a discipline.

"A bunch of the boys were whooping it up . . ."

The melodious voices of our bathtub baritones and shower sopranos were improved each week when the chorus met on Thursdays. People fortunate enough to hear them sing in public were the Johnson School P. T. A., the Lion's Club, and the Men's Club. Their most important appearance was with the combined choruses at the N. K. E. A. meeting last fall. The Christmas season was enhanced when these "saints for a day" presented the ever-beautiful pageant.

When Spring comes, instead of turning to thoughts of love, as the familiar saying goes, these cheerful warblers turn to thoughts of music. They distinguished themselves at the district contest in Covington and at the state music festival in Lexington. The annual Spring Music Festival is an occasion of great delight to the public. The chorus' last contribution is singing a swan song to the graduation class at baccalaureate.

The man who works so hard to develop this exceptional group is Mr. Emery T. Jones. His patience, wit, and musical knowledge make him a fine teacher.

H I G H L A N D E R

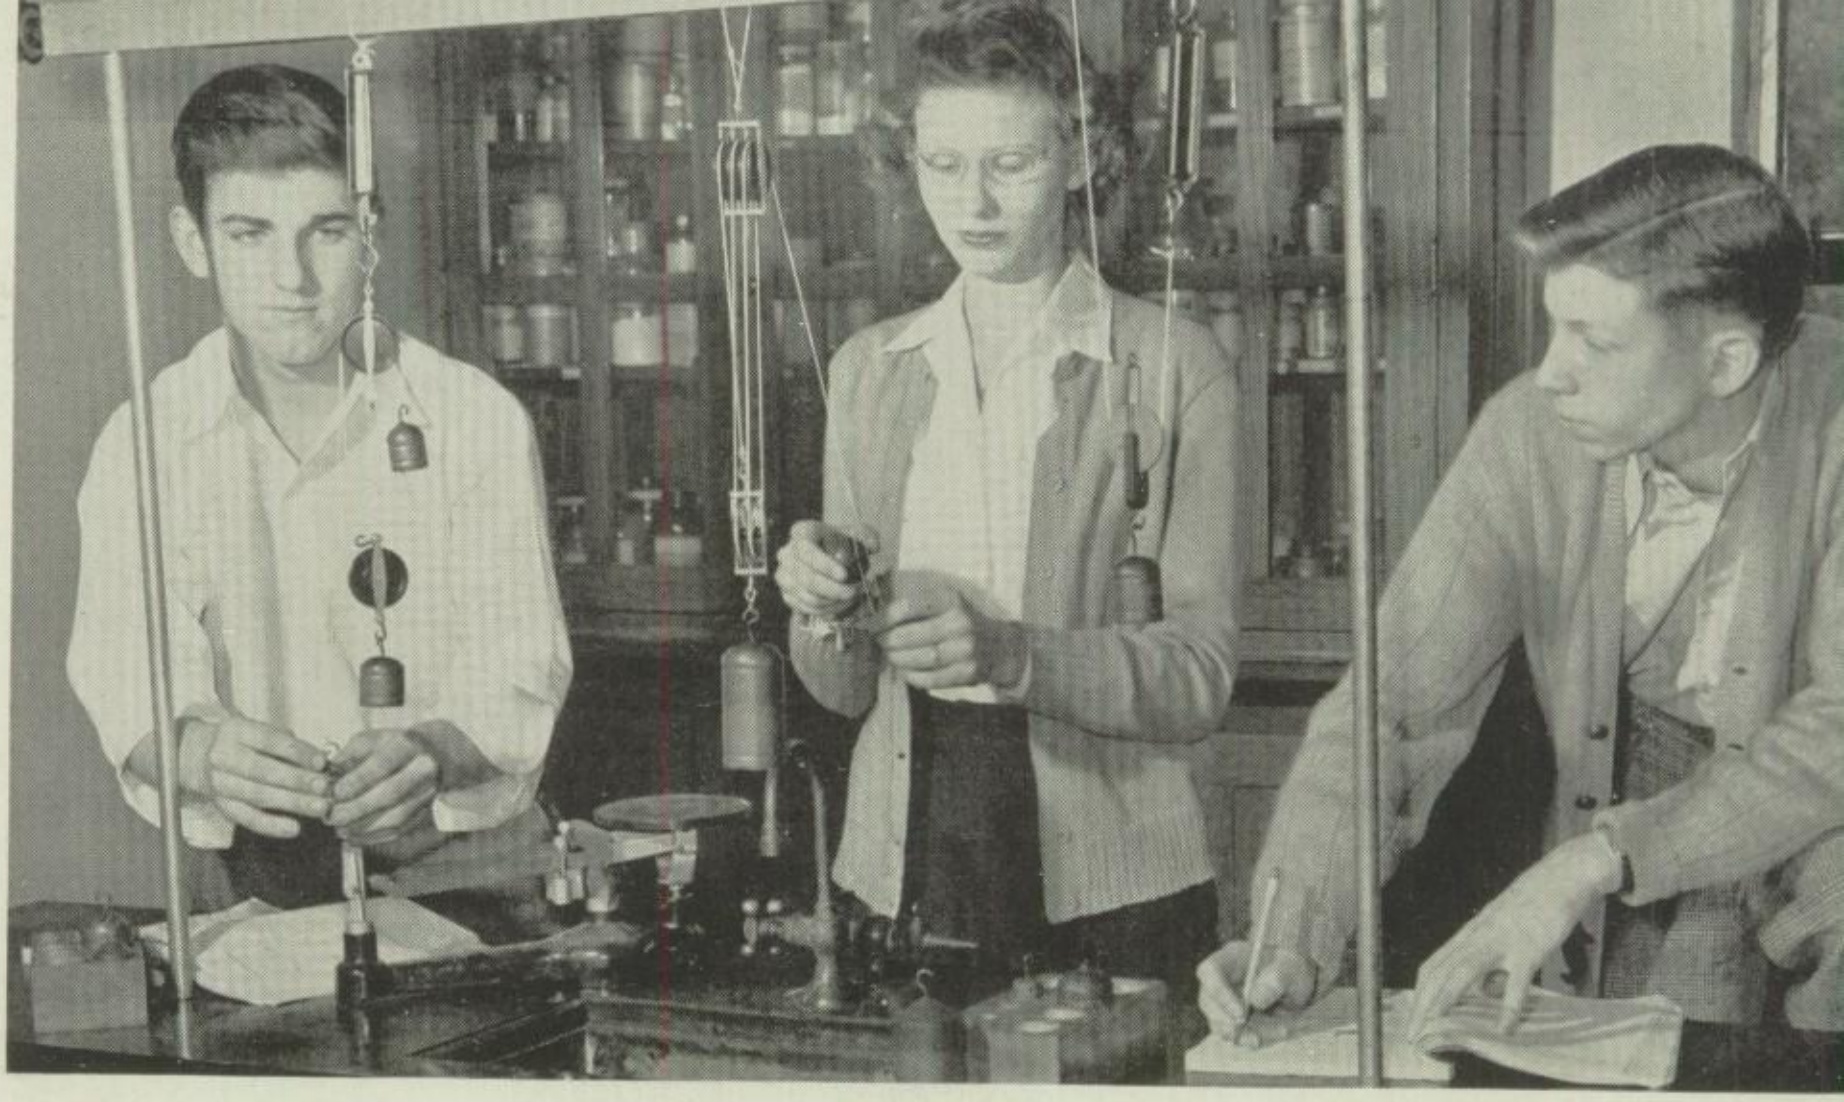
We would like to take you backstage with the Highlander and show you some of the misfortunes, agonies, and brainstorms which beset an annual staff, but the scene would be too gruesome!

Jack Reed drafted his assistants early in September. We went to work immediately (we called it work, but there was a lot of afternoon tea mixed with it). Little was done until Mr. Benson, our printer, affectionately known as "Mr. B.," arrived to inject us with some pep.

The circulation staff began its ballyhoo; the salesmanship class worked hard on prospective ads; the artists sketched the drawings you have seen; and the literary staff quickly found that it is one thing to read an annual, and another to write one.

When the dummy finally arrived, we would like to say that the story ran smoothly from that point, but the life of book publishers has its ups and downs. Nevertheless, everyone did his work well, and we present the best of it here.

Third Row: Roof, Faller, Keslar, Snyder, Farley, Bary, Dallow, Norris, Neal, Johnston, Crowe. Fourth Row: Gano, Williams, Lenz, Foster, Mays, Jacob, Bell, Mondiek, Macht, Daugherty.



A weighty problem.

SCIENCE CLUB

The Sperti Science Club, with Mr. Durham as sponsor, started out in the fall to be "just another club." Dr. Cornelius Creeke from Sperti Laboratory again accepted our invitation to speak to the club. Many of the members took advantage of the opportunity he offered us to visit the famous research laboratory.

Articles were contributed to the Kentucky Junior Academy of Science Bulletin. Those who had papers published were Ann Gano, "The Pollution of the Ohio River"; Pat Doran, "Mammals of the Fort Thomas Area"; Gladys Nakamoto and Lois Kolo, "The Pollution of the Ohio River"; Kenneth Broadwater, "The Atom"; and Marian Friend, "Atomic Energy." A variety picture show was presented to raise funds.

In spite of its routine beginning, the third year of the club's existence proved to be most outstanding. We received the distinctive honor of being host to the other science clubs from all over the state at the annual meeting of the Kentucky Junior Academy of Science. One of our delegates to the November meeting of Richmond, extended the invitation to the Academy, and immediately we enthusiastically began preparations for the twelfth annual convention, April 20.

Planning for the convention.

Wright and Lenz, x-ray specialists.

SCIENCE CLUB

Efficient committees were organized by the president, Paul Smalley, and by his successor, Jack Reed. A committee for organizing new clubs paid fruitful visits to Campbell County, Dayton, and Dixie Heights High Schools. Bob Mays and his group prepared entertainment, a magician, a dance, and refreshments, for the Friday evening before the convention. Bill Fennell and his workers started to search frantically for rooms for the guests. Of course, everyone was eager to help in this search for bed and breakfast, but finding space was difficult. Dick Lenz and Gordon Wright contributed their talents in building an X-ray machine for the exhibit. At least they built the frame of one, though after the final steps were taken on the X-ray tube, we discovered that the invention could not be used on homo sapiens without injury!

After much thought and many conferences, Mr. Durham, Jack Reed, Marian Friend, and delegates from neighboring clubs, set up the following program.

HILLTOPPER

All's quiet with the Fourth Estate.

On the third floor of the old building is a dusty room, littered with scratched-up papers, where the Hilltopper is produced every other week.

While this year's budding journalists will be remembered mainly for their ability to work in a paper cluttered office, by turns freezing and sweltering, they also hope to leave behind them twenty outstanding issues of the Hilltopper.

One of the memorable events of the year was the Press Conference at Lexington. This trip proved to be a valuable aid in writing and laying-out the remaining issues of the paper, as well as an enjoyable one.

Many catastrophes have caused the editors anxiety throughout the year, but as they leave Highlands and the Hilltopper they look back with happy memories at a year spent trying to make a better newspaper.

Bottom Row: Breitenstein, Wagoner, Mueller, J. Reinerman, Snyder, Roof, Swenson, Hasselbrink, M. R. Reinerman, Nakamoto, Howard. Second Row: M. L. Williams, Mondiek, M. M. HARMONY CLUB

Present among the long list of activities at Highlands this year is a newcomer, the Harmony Club. This organization, under the fine direction of Mr. J. B. McKenna, is a group devoted to the study of music.

Any Friday during home-room period one can find "Mac" and the members demonstrating their versatility by adding that popular "B," boogie-woogie, to the ageless "B's," Bach, Beethoven, and Brahms.

Composition played an important role in the current year's activities. Our present Alma Mater is the fruit of the combined efforts of this unusual musical group. When you hear the inspiring words of this song ring out across the gridiron it might be fitting to recall that Marilyn Messmer wrote them and that each member contributed in some way to the melody.

The Harmony Club has enriched the lives of the members by widening their cultural horizons.

"Miss Payne, do you have any rubber cement?" "Am I ready to tool today?" "I've misplaced my lining, Miss Payne." On Fridays eager craftsmen may be found working diligently in room 104. This year the fifty members unanimously decided to work with leather. It is an eighth wonder of the world that Miss Payne, the art director, hasn't lost her wits, for the students are constantly asking her for material, designs and suggestions. Some of the articles they have been making are billfolds, coin purses, book covers, belts, and key cases. The making of these items not only affords experience and pleasure, but also useful inexpensive gifts for all occasions. Many of the more skillful students often become Miss Payne's assistants and help their fellow members who may wish some aid.

A few have completed several articles; therefore, they have turned their talent to serving our school by painting attractive posters for various activities. However, the greatest task was helping to add the artistic touch to this yearbook.

ARCHERY CLUB

Hobbies come and hobbies go, but the Archery Club, having survived ten years, has taken on the aspect of a permanent organization. Archery is, admittedly, one of the oldest sports or skills, having descended to us from the days when our early ancestors took bow and arrow in hand and set forth to bring back tomorrow's dinner.

At Highlands we are content to shoot at fixed targets, which are provided and kept up by small weekly dues of the members. Archery develops poise, good posture, a steady hand, and keen eye. If we can acquire all these under the supervision of a sponsor so able and popular as Bernie Sadosky, is it any wonder that the club thrives and continues to grow?

Although some members are able to attend only every other week, the club meets each Friday. Meetings are held in the open whenever weather conditions permit, but on bad days there is always the gym.

The club numbers about thirty-five and is presided over by Jerry Thress. Sally Sheriff is in charge of the weekly collections and disbursements. The membership is divided equally between veterans and newcomers. Each member furnishes his own bow and arrow, but the targets are school property.

The old maestro shows how.

Too good to be true.

PHOTOGRAPHY CLUB

From the ranks of the Photography Club came several students who proved to be a great help in providing pictures for this book. These young camera fiends were organized under the sponsorship of Mr. Allphin, and their student leader was found in Paul Bell, a mainstay of the group during the entire year. Formerly, this activity existed in connection with the Hobby Club, which was discontinued for the duration of the war, but it was replaced by popular demand this year.

The members were taught the fundamentals of photography, such as the art of correct lighting, focusing, and planning a well composed picture. They studied the results of this instruction after developing and processing film. They became skilled in this work by practice in the dark room, whose sacred portals are seldom violated by any except initiates in the Royal Order of Photographers. Although the club has taken many stills of school activities, its main project is preserving a moving picture record of school life which we may enjoy seeing on our own projector.

AUDIO-VISUAL AIDS CLUB

During the past year the Visual Aids Club, under the direction of Mr. Austin Durham, has extended its activities, showing over a thousand motion pictures, film strips, and slides. It acts mainly as a service group to both the high school and elementary schools in showing films and other types of visual aids.

The increasing number of films available to the local school system has made it necessary to have an efficient crew of boys able to handle the expensive equipment. The thirty-five members of this club have been taught how to operate and to repair the sound machines and film strip projectors. A familiar sight is Mr. Durham and his struggling union operators loading the Dodge for an expedition to an enthusiastic elementary audience.

At almost any period of the day a class can be seen ambling toward the projection room. Between classes Gordon Wright, Mr. Durham's man Friday, dashes from the film files on the first floor up to the movie room, from whose portals presently pour the rumbles of the latest March of Time or gymnastic instruction.

The war is over, yet the Junior Red Cross Club is important to the refugees of foreign countries, to the hospitals, and to the underprivileged children of our own country.

The Junior Red Cross Club at Highlands is a unit of the Junior Red Cross organization of Campbell County and from it receives an assigned quota of work for each month.

The club, consisting of twenty-five members under the capable sponsorship of Miss Louetta Greeno, has this year contributed much to the peace time cause by knitting afghans, by making pinafores for children, by filling gift boxes for foreign refugees, and by contributing funds to the organization through the community chest.

It has the honor of having had Joyce Schnorr, a senior at Highlands, elected as vice-president of the county organization for this year.

More and more the Red Cross Club is receiving calls for its work. May it continue to cooperate as willingly in the future as it has in the past.

Bottom Row: Mahaney, Witham, Still, Frommel, A. Walker, P. Walker, Warden, Krebs, Dierig, Anderson.

One of our best known and most active clubs is the Girl Reserves, which consists of 43 girls from the 9th to the 12th grades. The president, Jean Reeves, ably assisted by Mrs. Kellogg and Mrs. Seiter, has succeeded in an endeavor for a bigger and better club.

A devotional service and a round table discussion were among the most interesting programs presented. During the first semester the squads packed boxes for the Red Cross to send to children in Europe. A Christmas basket was sent to a needy family in Fort Thomas.

A lovely Valentine tea was held in the home economics room for the members, their mothers, and the faculty. Later a style show was presented which depicted styles during the different wars. The last event of the year was the impressive Recognition Service when the new members received pins and became official Girl Reserves.

GIRL RESERVES

SENIOR DRAMATICS

Setting: The year is 1945-1946, and the place is Highlands.

Characters: The members of Senior Dramatic Club.

Summary of Action: Jack Hogan is elected president by a "railroad" vote, and his cabinet consists of Paul Smalley as vice-president and Mary Rita Reinerman as secretary. When a play is not under production, the organization has exchange programs with the Junior Dramatic Club or calls upon its own members to contribute to the program. The one-act play early in the year is first product of the club's talent. After this, there is a slight lull in activities sufficient to create enthusiasm over the first three-act play. This major undertaking is completed in February, and the director, Miss White, already begins plans for the final play. During the entire year the director of the club keeps the other parts functioning. The climax is reached with the presentation of the second three-act play in May.

JUNIOR DRAMATICS

Under the skillful guidance of Miss Moery, the Junior Dramatic Club gave several very enjoyable programs. The club gave two public performances besides presenting several exchange programs for the Senior Dramatic Club. At the first meeting the members chose Caroline Scott president.

The initial public presentation was a one-act play given December 13. None of us will forget the incomparable play entitled "Romance Is A Racket," which was given as part of the three one-act plays.

In April, as a culmination of the year's work, the club gave a very amusing play to raise money for the Junior Prom.

The members contributed their combined efforts to make the club successful. Although the leading characters tend to receive most of the glory, recognition should go to the stage crew, make-up artists, and the property collectors. Unification is needed to make any play function.

"We want a dramatic club!" "We want to be actors and actresses!" These were the pleas of many sophomore dramatic aspirants, which finally reached the ears of Mrs. Miller, who was trapped as the sponsor. The first year of this club, which was composed of fifty-six concientious thespians, was a dynamic success. The president, Paulette Hasselbrink, and her stage crew and make-up committees successfully backed the cast in their first public performance, "The Neighbors." This short comedy was one of the three one-act plays presented on December 13 with the Junior and Senior dramatic clubs.

During the second semester the new club purchased three plays to be presented before the student body. Lively and varied entertainment was arranged for each meeting, giving every one the chance to act. The club carried out its purpose of promoting interest in stage productions and of training students in the art of acting and in the directing of plays

JUNIOR PROM

1945

All ashore's goin' ashore! Anchors aweigh! On the night of June eighth our work-a-day old gym was so glorified in marine character that you could almost smell salt on the warm summer breeze. The decoration committee was amply repaid for its hard work by the many compliments received from the arriving guests. Gay musical strains were furnished by Cecil Young's orchestra, and the climax of the evening was the coronation of Betty Snyder and Jack Bahlman as King and Queen.

BETTER SERVICE FOR ALL

Good telephone service requires more than instruments, wires and central office equipment—more even than operators, linemen, engineers and installers . . . it also requires the thoughtful cooperation of the men, women and young people who use it. Short conversations, courteous sharing of party lines, being sure of your number before calling, and similar practices are essential to good telephone service.

We in the telephone industry are constantly striving to provide a high quality system to serve the needs of our community, but the degree of satisfaction the service affords depends much on how it is used.
